

MUSIC AT ST JOHN'S BURSARY SCHEME

Bringing music to the heart of our local community

Music at St John's Ltd. (MASJ) is a registered charity dedicated to bringing quality music and the performing arts to the heart of our local community through:

- Offering opportunities for young musicians to perform in public
- Arranging concerts by established performers
- Providing a platform for local schools and musical organisations.

In an area lacking appropriate community venues, MASJ actively encourages the use of St John's Church in Boxmoor (which has wheelchair access) for events.

MASJ also engages with local schools and with Dacorum Music School to educate young people and encourage their knowledge and love of music. Our UniSong events provide school children with a relaxed day of singing, and the UniSound events allow children from local schools to play a variety of instruments, in both cases ending with an informal concert for families and friends.

"We had a really fascinating day singing together ..."

"I never realised that making music could be such fun ..."

The WOOFYT, a simple functioning organ made of wood, valves, pipes and a pump, has visited St John's Church regularly to demonstrate the science behind an organ to children from local schools.

MASJ has created a bursary scheme to offer financial support to young people in their musical journey. Details are given on the next page.

If you would like to support our work by sending a donation or joining the Friends of Music at St John's, please see our separate leaflet or visit www.masj.org.uk, where details of our current programme can also be found.
